

Conservation as a “counter-seasonal” opportunity for Tourism: Best practices for a more sustainable eco-tourism.

*Workshop as a part of BirdTourise Erasmus+ Project: BirdWatching in the Islands
11th December 2018 in Salina Nature Park, Malta*

- 09.00 Registration and welcoming coffee
- 09.30 Bird tourism Erasmus+ Summary of the project. Partners, Objectives, Results
- 10.00 BirdLife Malta more than 50 years of bird conservation
- 10.10 Maltese flora and fauna. Birdwatching as a great example of eco-tourism.
- 10.30 Speaker about Reserves as an opportunity for Tourism professionals to have dedicated activities and tours
- 11.00 Conservation as a “counter-seasonal” opportunity for Tourism: Best practices for a more sustainable eco-tourism.
- 11.30 QA session
- 11.45 Walk around Salina/Bird watching outside
- 12.30 Lunch
- 13.30 Speaker about Foresta2000
- 14.00 “Seabirds in Malta as added value to boat trips”
- 14.30 Coffee break. Networking and Advising of future cooperation to launch eco-friendly bird tourism
- 15.00 Closure of the event. Certificates of attendance