- Holds a background in environmental education, biology, communication, equivalent studies or experience will be considered an asset
- Has experience delivering nature-based sessions for different age groups (an advantage)
- Is flexible and able to work during weekends when required.

Main responsibilities:

Events

- Organise and coordinate a calendar of events, handling booking procedures, managing events emails, and keeping an accurate record of all events
- Assist the Public Engagement team, and other relevant BirdLife Malta committees and sub-committees with the organisation of events
- Prepare communications materials to promote these events
- Promote events on BirdLife Malta's website and social media, newsletter and magazine
- Promote memberships and engagement with BirdLife Malta at stalls, fairs, events and in other public places
- Compile statistics for events which include numbers of participants, costs and donations

- Support the Public Engagement team with recruiting and training volunteers to assist with events and conservation work
- Support Event and Activities Committee
- Write blogs, articles, social media posts and newsletters about events and outreach work delivered.

Education and outreach

- Deliver school educational sessions at the Nature Reserves for Early Years
- Deliver schools talks
- Participate in stands to promote BirdLife Malta's work
- Engage with the community
- Collaborate with other Public Engagement Assistants to deliver a programme of events and activities targeting families, young people and the local community
- Coordinate BirdLife Malta's FALKO youth group and create opportunities for youths
- Design engagement activities.

Administration and office communication

- Attend regular meetings with the Public Engagement team to review progress and plan ahead;
- Compile an end-of-year report for volunteering assistants;
- Support the Public Engagement team with any additional administration tasks when requested;
- Booking school field visits at nature reserves.
